Ohio-based NOSH Butters produces small batch craft nut butters and nut mixes. Our plant based snacks are perfect for snacking, baking, drizzling, scooping, spreading, whatevering. All of our products are gluten free, dairy free, palm oil free, wholesome and delicious.

Established in 2018, NOSH began with a single food processor and a pantry full of nuts in our home kitchen, and quickly evolved into a small-batch manufacturing operation with commercial quality standards. We believe food is the key to connecting people, and that our small, family run company can be used as a vehicle for creating positive change in the world. We are committed to continuously improving our environmentally and socially conscious business practices. Right now, that means:

- Excluding palm oil from 100% of our products
- Using plastic free and/or recyclable packaging as much as possible
- Offering a glass jar reuse program to minimize waste
- Partnering with local suppliers to improve healthy food access and keep our local economy strong
- Helping to support causes and organizations we care about
- And starting in 2021, contributing 1% of our sales to climate and social justice efforts
