Poured With Purpose

Candlefy was built on a simple idea: to create beautifully crafted scents and aroma experiences for your home.

From fragrance development to manufacturing, we've chosen to do things hands-on. By building and operating our own production facility in Southern California, we oversee every step from raw materials to finished product.

Our scents are inspired by the landscapes that surround us: coastlines, forests, deserts and city neighborhoods. Each fragrance is designed to feel grounded and balanced: clean-burning, nuanced and never overpowering.

All Candlefy products are made in the USA using premium raw materials sourced domestically whenever possible. We use a natural coconut-apricot wax blend, phthalate-free fragrance oils and vessels designed to feel timeless.

Candlefy exists to bring thoughtful, well-crafted fragrance into everyday life: elevated, yet accessible. Because scent should not be reserved for special occasions. It should be part of how you live.

WHY COCONUT WAX MAKES A BETTER CANDLE

We chose a coconut-apricot wax for our candles because it performs better in every way that matters.

MORE SCENT. BETTER BALANCE.

Coconut-apricot wax can carry more scent than other waxes, allowing it to disperse evenly throughout the room without becoming overpowering. The result is a richer, more noticeable aroma that feels balanced and refined.

A CLEANER, SLOWER BURN.

The wax melts at a lower temperature than other waxes, creating a steady flame and an even melt pool across the surface. That means less soot, less tunneling and a candle that burns longer and more consistently.

BEAUTIFUL. BEFORE & AFTER.

Naturally smooth and creamy, coconut-apricot wax looks elegant. Once burning, it maintains a clean surface and stable flame. Once extinguished, it resets to a smooth, like-new finish.
